Tangential Sphere Bounds on the Ensemble Performance of ML Decoded Low Density Parity Check Codes

Igal Sason and Shlomo Shamai (Shitz)

Department of Electrical Engineering

Technion - Israel Institute of Technology

Haifa 32000, Israel

Abstract

The ensemble performance of maximum likelihood decoding of low density parity check codes is studied here by upper bounds on their ensemble distance spectrum and block error probability, for a binary-input additive white Gaussian noise channel. These results demonstrate the phenomenal performance of the low density parity check codes.